Firefighters without Borders

FACTSHEET

Firefighters without Borders foundation

The foundation is an organization of volunteers. We work with fire departments in development countries. Local fire departments receive training and equipment that should enable them to improve their fire safety.

We work with fire departments for at least 3 to 5 years to gain a substantial improvement in the capacity of the fire department. The first year we focus on the basic fire training. We do not force our methods on to the fire departments but we implement our experience, material and training in their firefighting system. The second year we repeat the first year of training. By repeating, we believe the firefighters will grow. The next years, the exercises will become more complex and we will focus more on command and control. After that, we will start training local trainers who will be able to continue the learning curve for the years to come. This will prepare the fire department for our exit. The foundation has obtained very good experiences following these guidelines over the past years.
